MOVING PICTURE BOAT IS LATEST IDEA

Assist In Fair Departments. Hall on board Motorboat.

Indianapolis.—With the idea of providing amusement for the summer residents along the shore of Lake Wawasee, there has been built a motorboat that is in effect a combination of motion picture theatre and dance hall.

The boat is 50½ feet long and is to be propelled by a 45-horsepower internal combustion engine and is capable of carrying 300 passengers. Trips around the lake are to be made six nights a week during the summer, the deck being used on alternate nights for motion picture shows and for dancing.

aways upon the vessel were taking food and clothing. The vessel docked at Richmond.

On July 22, the Jata Mendi, under command of Captain Christopher Luzeraga, started on its voyage from Balboa. They were hardly out of sight of land when members of the crew reported to the captain that their clothing was being stolen. The rapidity with which goods disappeared caused the men to become superstitious and they told the master that unless the one responsible for their loss was discovered they would not work. Many of the crew became so frightened that they were afraid to go to their bunks at night. They feared the vessel was a "ghost ship."

On the fifth day out the captain lined the men up on the deck. They were assigned different parts of the vessel and each began a search of the ship. Their efforts were soon rewarded when four stowaways were found hiding in the coal bunkers. They admitted they had appropriated all the movable things they could find for their own use. They were put to work on the vessel.
